Mark Morris was born on August 29, 1956, in Seattle, Washington, where he studied as a young man with Verla Flowers and Perry Brunson. In the early years of his career, he performed with Lar Lubovitch, Hannah Kahn, Laura Dean, Eliot Feld, and the Koleda Balkan Dance Ensemble. He formed the Mark Morris Dance Group in 1980, and has since created over 100 works for the company. From 1988–91, he was director of dance at the Théâtre Royal de la Monnaie in Brussels, the national opera house of Belgium. Among the works created during his tenure were three evening-length dances: The Hard Nut; L'Allegro, il Penseroso ed il Moderato; and Dido and Aeneas. In 1990, he founded the White Oak Dance Project with Mikhail Baryshnikov. Morris is also much in demand as a ballet choreographer. He has created four works on the San Francisco Ballet since 1994 and received commissions from such companies as American Ballet Theatre, Boston Ballet, and the Paris Opera Ballet. His work is in the repertory of the Geneva Ballet, New Zealand Ballet, English National Ballet, and the Royal Ballet, Covent Garden. Morris has worked extensively in opera, directing and choreographing productions for the New York City Opera, English National Opera, and the Royal Opera, Covent Garden. He was named a Fellow of the MacArthur Foundation in 1991, and has received honorary doctorates from The Boston Conservatory of Music, The Juilliard School, Long Island University, Pratt Institute, and Bowdoin College. Morris is the subject of a biography by Joan Acocella (Farrar, Straus & Giroux). In 2001, Marlowe & Company published Mark Morris' L'Allegro, il Penseroso ed il Moderato: A Celebration, a volume of photographs and critical essays.

Mark Morris Dance Group was formed in 1980 and gave its first concert that year in New York City. The company's touring schedule steadily expanded to include cities both in the United States and in Europe, and in 1986 it made its first national television program for the PBS series Dance in America. The Dance Group was invited to become the national dance company of Belgium in 1988, and spent three years in residence at the Théâtre Royal de la Monnaie in Brussels. The company returned to the United States in 1991 as one of the world's leading dance companies, performing across the country and at major international festivals. It has maintained and strengthened its ties to several cities around the world, most notably here in Berkeley, where Cal Performances presents the company in two annual seasons, including engagements of The Hard Nut most Decembers. The Dance Group also appears regularly in Boston (MA), Fairfax (VA), Seattle (WA), Urbana-Champaign (IL), and at the Jacob's Pillow Dance Festival in Becket (MA). It made its debut at the Mostly Mozart Festival in 2002 and at the Tanglewood Music Festival in 2003. The company's London seasons have garnered two Laurence Olivier Awards. MMDG is noted for its commitment to live music, a feature of every performance on its full international touring schedule since 1996. Cellist Yo-Yo Ma has frequently collaborated with the Dance Group; their projects include the 1997 Emmy Award-winning film Falling Down Stairs, using Bach's Third Suite for Unaccompanied Cello, and the 2002 dance Kolam, created for The Silk Road Project in collaboration with Indian composer Zakir Hussain and jazz pianist Ethan Iverson of The Bad Plus. MMDG's film and television projects include Dido and Aeneas, The Hard Nut, and two documentaries for the UK's South Bank Show. In 2001, the Mark Morris Dance Center opened in Brooklyn, New York. The 30,000-square-foot facility features three studios and a school for dance students of all ages.

MMDG Music Ensemble was formed in 1996 and since then has joined the Mark Morris Dance Group on tours throughout the United States, the UK, and Japan. The Ensemble's repertory ranges from 17th-century works by John Wilson and Henry Purcell to recent scores by Lou Harrison and Henry Cowell. In addition, the Ensemble presents concerts at the Mark Morris Dance Center in Brooklyn and other venues, and participates in the Mark Morris Dance, Music, and Literacy program in the New York City public school system.

American Bach Soloists (ABS) was founded in 1989 with the mission of introducing contemporary audiences to the cantatas of J.S. Bach through historically informed performances. Under the leadership of co-founder and music director Jeffrey Thomas, the ensemble has achieved its vision of assembling the world's finest vocalists and period-instrument performers to bring this brilliant music to life. The group's first concerts were given at St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere—where the ensemble still serves as artists-in-residence—but by its fifth season, ABS had added regular performances in San Francisco and Berkeley. As the audience increased, the artistic direction expanded to include Bach's purely instrumental and larger choral masterpieces, as well as music of his contemporaries and that of the early Classical era. Now entering its 16th season, ABS presents an annual subscription series in San Francisco, Berkeley, and Belvedere. The ensemble's annual holiday performances of Handel's Messiah have quickly become a Bay Area tradition. As part of ABS' 2004–05 season, the ensemble will present four performances of Messiah, one each in San Francisco's Grace Cathedral and Mission Dolores Basilica (December 14 and 15), and two in the Robert and Margrit Mondavi Center for the Performing Arts at UC Davis. ABS has received major grants from The William & Flora Hewlett Foundation, Grants for the Arts/San Francisco Hotel Tax Fund, the Marin Community Foundation, The William E. & Aenid R. Weisgerber Foundation, and the California Arts Council. An administrative staff and board of trustees support ABS' activities as a non-profit organization.

The Bad Plus is a co-operative ensemble with bassist Reid Anderson, pianist Ethan Iverson, and drummer David King. The group has two releases on Columbia Records: this year's Give and last year's These Are the Vistas. The Bad Plus is noted for hijacking various styles while always remaining committed jazz improvisers. For more information, visit thebadplus.com.

Berkeley Symphony Orchestra (BSO) reflects the daring and the diversity that exemplify the Berkeley community, with programming that combines premieres by emerging and established contemporary composers with classic works seen through a 21st-century lens. The BSO has presented American and world premieres at a pace few orchestras could approach.

The BSO's season consists of subscription programs and a pension fund concert: a multi-chorus Choral Festival that brings together talented adult choruses onstage with the BSO (all concerts take place in Zellerbach Hall). The informal and free Under Construction concert of new works by local composers is a unique outreach to the community. The BSO has received numerous ASCAP Awards for adventurous programming of contemporary music, most recently for its 2003–04 season. The Orchestra also is an active community participant through its music education program. Annually, nearly 1,500 Berkeley elementary school students experience an extensive residency featuring concerts and classroom visits. This program was recently a winner of Bank of America's Award for Excellence in Music Education, a national award sponsored by the American Symphony Orchestra League.

The BSO's new CD, The Butterfly Tree, features a musical rendition of the two years Julia Butterfly Hill spent on a tiny platform 180 feet up in a redwood tree that was slated to be felled. The story is narrated by Hill and sung by folk music legend Joan Baez. Also on the CD is a setting of The Animal-Singers of Bremen, narrated by noted Bay Area actress Joy Carlin.

For more information on the Orchestra's current season, please visit www.berkeleysymphony.com or call 510.841.2800.

I Don't Want to Love

Non voglio amare
(Madrigals, Book 9, 1651)

[Anonymous]

Non voglio amare
per non penare,
ch'Amor seguendo
di duol sen va
l'alma struggendo
di pene amare.
Non vo' più amare,
no, no, no, no.

Chi vive amando,
s'è cieco Amore?
S'è cieco Amore,
come ch'egli è,
il mio dolore
non può mirara.
Non vo' più amare,
no, no, no, no.

Fuggir vogl'io
quest'empio e rio
s'Amor è crudo,
come ch'egli è,
fanciullo ignudo,
che mi può dare?
Non vo' più amare,
no, no, no, no.

Ah, che non si conviene
(Madrigals, Book 7, 1619)

[G.B. Guarini]

Ah, che non si conviene
romper la fede a chi la fe' mantiene.
Il mio fermo voler è quell'istesso lontan da voi, ch'esservi suol appresso;
né può cangiarlo morte,
né mia malvagia sorte,
ma, ferma come a l'onda immobil scoglio, e viver vostro e morir vostro io voglio.

I don't want to love
so as not to suffer;
since Love, following on sorrow, goes on to consume the soul
with bitter pain.
I wish to love no more,
no, no, no, no.

Who lives in love,
if Love is blind?
If Love is blind
as he is,
he cannot see
my sorrow.
I wish to love no more,
no, no, no, no.

I wish to flee
that wicked evil-doer;
if Love, the naked boy,
is as cruel
as he is,
what can he offer me?
I wish to love no more,
no, no, no, no.

It is not right to break faith with one who keeps faith.
My firm desire remains the same far from you as it does near you, nor can death change it,
nor my unfortunate fate,
but, firm as a rock to the wave,
I wish to live and die yours.

Zefiro torna
(Scherzi Musicali, 1632)
[O. Rinuccini]

Zefiro torna e di soavi accenti l'aer fa grato e' il pié discioglie a l'onde, e, mormorando tra le verdi fronde, fa danzar al bel suon su'l prato i fiori.

Inghirlandato il crin Fillide e Clori note temprando amor care e gioconde; e da monti e da valli ime e profonde raddoppian l'armonia gli antri canori.

Sorge più vaga in ciel l'aurora, e' l sole, sparge più luci d'or; più puro argento fregia di Teti il bel ceruleo manto.

Sol io, per selve abbandonate e sole, l'ardor di due begli occhi e' l mio tormento, come vuol mia ventura, hor piango hor canto.

S'el vostro cor, Madonna
(Madrigals, Book 7, 1619)
[G.B. Guarini]

S'el vostro cor, Madonna,
altrui pietoso tanto,
da quel suo degno
al mio non degno pianto
tal hor si rivolgesse
e una stilla al mio languir ne desse, forse nel mio dolore
vedria l'altrui perfidia
e' l proprio errore;
e voi seco direste:
Ah, sapess'io
usar pietà come pietà desio!

Zephyr returns and with his sweet breath freshens the air and ruffles the waters, and, murmuring through the green branches, makes the flowers in the field dance to his music.

Phyllida and Cloris, garlands decking their hair, sing sweet and joyous love songs;
and sonorous caverns re-echo the harmony from high mountains and deep valleys.

Dawn rises more lovely in the heavens,
and the sun spreads more golden rays;
purer silver decks Thetis' fair cerulean mantle.

Only I, through desolate and lonely woods, as my fate decrees, now weep, now sing of the brightness of two lovely eyes and of my torment.

If your heart, my lady,
so merciful to others,
would at times turn
from its seemly tears
to my unseemly weeping
and a tear-drop bestow upon my grieving, perhaps in my pain
it would see the malice of others
and its own erring;
and you with it would say: Ah, if I knew how to have mercy as I need it myself!

Eccomi pronta ai baci
(Madrigals, Book 7, 1619)
[G.B. Marino]

Eccomi pronta ai baci;
baciarmi, Ergasto mio,
ma bacia in guisa
che de' denti mordaci
nota non resti nel mio volto incisa; perché altri non m'additi e in essa poi legga le mie vergogne e i baci tuoi.
Ahi! tu mordi e non baci,
tu mi segnasti, ah! ah!
Poss'io morir se più ti bacio mai.

Lamento della ninfa
(Madrigals, Book 8, 1638)
[O. Rinuccini]

Non havea Febo ancora
recato al mondo il dì ch'una donzella fuora
del proprio albergo uscì.

Sul pallidetto volto
scorgea se il suo dolor.
spesso gli veniva sciolto un gran sospir dal cor.

Si calpestando fiori
errava hor qua, hor là, i suoi perduto amori
così piangendo va:

Amor, dicea, e' l ciel
mirando, il piè fermò, Amor, dov'è la fe'
che'l traditor giurò?

Fa che ritorni il mio
amor com'ei pur fu,
o tu m'ancidi ch'io
non mi tormenti più.

Miserella, ah più no, no!
Tanto gel soffrir non può.

Here I am, ready for kisses;
kiss me, my Ergasto,
but kiss in such a way
that no trace of biting teeth may leave a scar to mark my face; so that others may not point to it and in it read my shame and your kisses.
Ah! You bite and do not kiss, you leave a tell-tale sign, Ah! Ah!
May I die if I ever kiss again.

Phoebus had not yet given the day back to the world, when a damsel came out of her own house.

On her pale face
her suffering
was plainly to be observed, a deep sigh often rose from her heart.

Crushing the flowers underfoot, she strayed back and forth, bemoaning her
lost love.

Love! she cried, and paused,
looking up to heaven:
Love, where is the fidelity that the betrayer swore?

Send back my lover,
as he once was;
or kill me,
so that I may no longer torment myself.

Ah, wretch! No, no further!
She cannot bear so much coldness.

TEXTS AND TRANSLATIONS

Non vo' più ch'ei sospiri se non lontan da me,
no, no chei suoi
martiri più non dirammi affè.

Perchè di lui mi struggo tutt'orgoglioso sta,
che sì, s'io'l fuggo
ancor mi pregherà.

Se ciglio ha più sereno
colei ch'el mio non è, già non rinchiude in seno
Amor sì bella fe'.

Né mai sì dolci baci
da quella bocca havrà,
ne più soavi, ah taci,
taci, che troppo il sa.

Sì tra sdegnosi pianti
spargea le voci al ciel, così ne' cori amanti
mesce Amor fiamma e gel.

Soave libertate (Madrigals, Book 7, 1619) [G. Chiabrera]

Soave libertate,
già per sì lunga etate
mia cara compagnia,
chi da me ti disvia?
O Dea desiata
e da me tanto amata,
ove ne vai veloce?

Lasso, che ad alta voce
invan ti chiamo e piango.
Tu fuggi ed io rimango
stretto in belle catene d'altr' amorose pene
e d'altro bel desio.
A Dio per sempre, a Dio.

I don't want him to sigh unless he is far from me no, no, because he no longer will tell me what ails him.

If I torture myself for his sake
he is unmoved,
but if I flee from him,
he will again bid me.

Even though she may have a prettier face than mine, Love has not endowed her heart with equal fidelity.

Never again will he receive such sweet kisses
from that mouth,
and none more tender—ah, say no more,
say no more, he knows it only too well.

As between angry tears
the cries rise up to heaven, so in lover's hearts
Amor mixes fire and ice.

Sweet freedom,
for so long a time
my dear companion,
who will deprive me of you?
Beloved Goddess
by me much loved,
where are you fleeing so quickly?

Alas, aloud and in vain
I call and implore you.
You run away and I remain ensnared in beautiful chains of love for another
and other allurements.
Farewell for ever, farewell.
